The statement of Receiver Wildes outlining the financial condition of the State Bank & Trust company, differs widely, particularly in its estimates of the value of the bank's assets, from that issued by the cashier of the institution. It will be seen that in the receiver's figures the vales of loans and those estimating the extent of the bank's equity in real estate are largely discounted while 'he item of claims against the Tonopan branch is completey ignored in the cashier's report. Between the figures of the two statements, covering the resources of the chain of banks, is a discrepancy of considerably over $900,000, including a reduction of over $91,000 in the appraisement of office furniture. ATWOOD DISTRICT

COMMANDS NOTICE People Attracted to District by Returns Secured from Mines.

That Atwood is destined to become one of the leading camps this fall is now a foregone conclusion. Almost daily are men repairing to the district to look over the mines and if possible secure leases in that favored locality. This morning J. G. Richardson will leave with a party of men to superintended the construction and operation of a mill on the Griggs-Atwood lease.

I. C. Towers, who has been leasing on the Pactolus, together with seven others, arrived in this city yesterday. His purpose was to endeavor to amicably adjust if possible some little difference that exists on the part of one of the leasers as to the division of a result of their winter's and some of their summer's work on the lease. Three carloads of ore are standing on the sideline at Luning awaiting shipment to Salt Lake. The average of the ore being $400 per ton, the values about equal in gold and silver.

The rumored sale of the Pactolus was not consumated. The engineers had made a favorable report on the property and the price fixed was sail to be $125,000, but the owners refused to let go for less than $175 -

The strike on the Butler has developed into magnificent proportions. The entire bottom of the 200-foot shaft being in ore, the values going $250 per ton. Jim Butler, the owner, is a man who is a credit in any camp, for immediately upon his breaking into the ere he ordered several cases of wine and the choicest delicacies that the market could afford and every man and woman in the camp sat down to a banquet tart would have done credit at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Assays from the Gold Crown, the property of Frank Everett, give values as high as $270 to the ton. Mr. and immediately left for Nevada City, California, where he has a property on which a 10-stamp mill is in operation. He claims that Atwood is the peer of them all.

A rumor is current that the Sierra Vista Mines company will soon start up again. This mine is rated as one of the best in the state.
